

Honorary Surgeon Called To Palace Wednesday Night

Drainage Performed in Morning—More Be- lieved Necessary—May Cut Ribs Ad- joining Affected Lung—Strength Rallies

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Official announcement was made that a successful operation had been performed on King George this evening.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Medical experts in London today unofficially expressed the opinion that the summoning of Sir Hugh Higney, honorary surgeon to the king, to Buckingham Palace, was connected with an operation that might be taken. It was believed small portions of two adjacent ribs would be cut for the purpose of draining the secretions from the affected lung.

Sir Hugh, who has been honorary surgeon to the king since 1917, is a senior surgeon at the London hospital. He was surgeon to the late Queen Alexandra's household.

He served in the great war and was mentioned in despatches. He is the author of various papers in medical and surgical publications.

PRINCE COVERS 6,000 MILES IN UNDER 10 DAYS

Dash to Bedside of Sick Father Was Romantic Feat

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Urged on by a great anxiety which was apparent to the thousands of persons awaiting his return to London last night, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, accompanied by the duchess, journeyed from the wide of Africa to the bedside of the sick father in less than ten days—an unparalleled speed.

During the past few days the frequent newspaper editions of the newspapers have been recording the prince's journey and have shown how the prince's dash to the bedside of his father was a romantic feat.

The prince's journey was a dash to the bedside of his father, who is now in the hospital at Sandringham. The prince's journey was a dash to the bedside of his father, who is now in the hospital at Sandringham.

King Has Migration Pact With Ct. Britain

PLAN PROVIDES FOR STUDENTS TO COME FREE

LONDON, Dec. 12.—An important agreement, promising to ease the flow of migrants to Canada from Britain, has been concluded between the British government and the Canadian government. Under the agreement, the British government will give one month's free training in agricultural schools in Alberta to men from Britain between the ages of 17 and 25 years of age. Subsequently the province will place the students on agricultural farms and, at selected domestic positions respectively.

The agreement will travel in two parts in the spring. Male students under 18 years of age will travel across the ocean first, but if over 18 will come under the new plan. The women will be sent later. The only cost to the students will be their own maintenance and travel. The students will be sent to the agricultural schools in Alberta to men from Britain between the ages of 17 and 25 years of age. Subsequently the province will place the students on agricultural farms and, at selected domestic positions respectively.

"ALL TOGETHER"

The slogan that has been adopted by the New Industries Committee has the merit of being something more than a mere catch-phrase. It is also a prescription for the curing of most evils and the promotion of community progress.

"All together for Edmonton" is good advice for the people of this city at any time, and never better advice than at present.

KEEPING MONEY IN CANADA

The bank statement for October shows that at the end of that month Canadian banks held current deposits $83,000,000 more than at the end of September.

New York banks are paying 10 per cent for call money. Quite evidently the Canadian banks were in position to export a huge amount of money to New York and to earn unusual profits on it.

THE CAMPAIGN MEETING

The attendance at public meetings is no longer a trustworthy indicator of the extent to which the public are taking an interest in a political contest.

The voters, it is quite plain, do not depend upon what they hear from the platform to determine how they will vote.

ACTION PROMISED

As forecast in Ottawa despatches some time ago, Hon. Frank Oliver has appointed an officer of the Railway Commission, whose special duty will be to advise that body in the carrying out of its aggressive policy for the establishment of safeguards at railway crossings.

established more or less as conditions required. That supposition was a long way from the truth. The most of this money is unused. For the reason that the railways and the municipalities will not take the initiative in making crossings safe, since these also have to contribute to the cost. The Commission is now to take the lead, and will call upon the other parties to show why dangerous crossings should not be made safe. For that particular job the board could hardly find a better man than Mr. Oliver. His experience as a railway commissioner will stand him in good stead. And he has initiative ability. It can be foreseen that the railways and the municipal councils are going to be prodded up on the matter of this money and its duty. The public will hope that the prodding may be prompt, vigorous and widely effective.

What He Missed

By EDGAR A. GUEST

He lived and died and never knew
What deeds of splendor he could do.
He never had to work at 50 per cent.
Nor plan and save to get ahead.
Nor learn to live on one last penny.
Nor watch men building, he oft
Wished that he, too, might climb aloft
And swing down from that place
And do it with such skill and grace.
He looked at countless busy men
Count to work and home again
And wished that he might have done
Had he been but a poor man's son.

Each Heart Is Whispering Home

Song of Thomas Hood. And we often quote the old Roman, Pliny—"Home is where the heart is."

Home Is Where the Heart Is

"Home" suggests a world of sentiment. And many—even though it be encumbered, the man who owns his home enjoys a sense of security.

Home Is Where the Heart Is

He can pay the mortgage, he lives. If he dies, he wants his family to have their home in a way to live and carry on together.

Home Is Where the Heart Is

This wish will come true if he has a N.Y.C. Home Policy.

Water Colors Of Calgary Artist Displayed At Museum

J. S. Tempest Has Strong and Sweeping
Touch

Strong and sweeping in line and color and rugged in their portrayal of mountain scenery, the water colors by J. S. Tempest of Calgary, on display at the Edmonton Museum of Art, are of considerable interest to nature lovers. Mr. Tempest is Dominion Commissioner of Irrigation in Calgary, and one of his works is representative of the various of the foothills and mountains country close to the southern city. Probably the finest painting in the collection is "Hudson Bay," a copy of the water color chosen by Lady Willoughby. The artist states a depth of feeling that gives the picture an unusual interest. The collection is a series of great landscapes, and in this picture is the most vivid of the north.

Some Effects Good
Although the mountain pictures lack the touch of genius they are beautiful and appealing in their broad and sweeping tones and coloring. The snow effects, particularly in "Mount Bell" and "Poudre Pass," are effectively done and carry an atmosphere of cold and desolation.

There are given a masterful and rugged treatment by Mr. Tempest whose "Study of Trees" is worthy of mention.

It is interesting to note that the artist's work has been shown in a picture of the artist at its 10th annual exhibition in Toronto.

Between Lectures
Notes and News from the University of Alberta Campus

The annual Christmas banquet for students in residence, which is one of the most enjoyable of the university social life, has been postponed until after Christmas. This was thought advisable by the medical service committee on view of the prevalence of influenza and the few cases of scarlet fever.

OIL SHED GOES UP AND DANGER MENACES MANY

Townspeople Flee Homes and Take to Open Prai- rie While Fire Lasts

Threatened with complete extinction from a blazing storage shed of kerosene, the residents of Rockford lay last night at the mercy of the wind.

Only meager details of the conflagration have been received and the latest figures dated last night state that a strong breeze was blowing sparks, flying embers and flames away from the burning building. The probability of the ruined is fading should the wind change, however, three more storage tanks filled with gasoline and oil may catch fire. Four houses nearby are imperiled.

The fact that the fire is kept open at its present limits is due to the heroism of Andy Wilson who was the first to attempt to stop the progress of the outbreak. He dashed through flames, reached casks and turned them off. From shed pipes are conducted with a main line and a branch line and if they had exploded there is little doubt that the whole town

The prairie all round the town, last night, was crowded with townspeople who had fled their homes while adding to their numbers were farmers and others from nearby points who were attracted by the lurid glow with which the flames lit up the sky.

AIR MAIL HAS GREAT FUTURE

So States Postal Superintendent F. X. Leger in Interview

That a great future lies before the mail service as an important factor in the success of the airline. The commercial world was amply demonstrated yesterday in a record 100 per cent load for the Air Canada plane, according to the district superintendent of postal service, P. K. Reid.

On Tuesday morning at 7:45 a.m. the Western Canada Airways plane, carrying 100 passengers, 100 pieces of mail, took to the air from Hamilton. The plane was loaded with 100 passengers and three stacks of mail. On the same afternoon, at 4:40 p.m., the plane took to the air from Edmonton field, making the round trip in eight hours and 55 minutes. Reid said that the plane had a record 100 per cent load on top of the remarkable time record of the flight. Reid said that the plane was waiting for the Western to Regina plane, which had a back head wind and was late. The Western plane was returning time to schedule the plane was returning to Regina. Reid said that the plane was returning to Regina with "Punch" Dickson in charge of the plane, at 7:30. Paul Cawley, a Hamilton resident, was returning from the western flight, accompanied Today's shipment of mail contained 100 letters and 100 newspapers, some 75 pounds, and representing some 1,800 Canadians.

French Canadians To Visit Their Old Land

Returning to the view of the future of their children, many French Canadians are leaving for a tour of Quebec and Ontario this summer. Leaving on Thursday (June 13) is expected that at least 40 will leave Edmonton in three parties.

This party will be joined by a further contingent from Northern Saskatchewan and Alberta, and will be accommodated into a special train at Regina and further cars will be added at Winnipeg and other points on the journey east.

During the trip the following points will be visited: Niagara Falls, Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec, St. Hyacinthe, Joliette, and a special pilgrimage will be made to the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception at Lourdes de Beauséjour.

The party will be in charge of A. J. Gauthier, president of the

The Canadian National railway, and it is expected that it will disband at Montreal on December 22.

William Arthur Gibson, a concrete worker who is thought to be in the city, is sought by the sister in California in order that he may participate in the settlement on an estate anyone knowing of Mr. Gibson's whereabouts is requested to communicate with the sister.

The ice at Dunvegan is now strong enough to carry the transportation of persons and vehicles, according to word received by John Blue, secretary of the Edmonton Board of Trade Wednesday.

PITCHERS WEAK WITH BAT WOULD BECOME NON-HITTERS

Manager Would Have Right to Designate Player to Take Hurler's Turn at Bat Throughout Game—Rule Would Not Be Compulsory, However

By BRIAN BELL, Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—A suggestion for the most radical change in the rules of baseball since the ball was thrown in 1845 was brought before the National League at its annual meeting yesterday. If the proposal, just forwarded by President John A. Heydler, is approved by the American League and the rule committee, weak hitting pitchers will become non-hitters.

DANGERS HOLD TOP POSITION BY 3 TO 2 WIN

Abel, D'Amico Injury Scores Goal for New Yorkers

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Despite the onslaught of injuries and an early loss by their opponents, the New York Rangers have been last night's winners, 3 to 2, in the first game in the United States section of the National Hockey League. The Rangers won by scoring three goals in the second period, while the Montreal Canadiens scored two goals in the first and third periods.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE EMPRESS

"On to Reno" was directed by James Cruze and will be seen at the Empress theatre for the last time today. Walter Woods wrote the scenario from the original story by Joe Jackson.

Patrons are reminded of the country show distribution on Thursday night.

AT THE FANTASIES

However dimly audience care or physical differences may make you, so matter how you show up in affecting your nerves and your poses, the charming comedy "Love

Over Night" now being shown at the Fantasies theatre in magnificent ten-minute lengths, will be shown in full length with modernized plot. A sure cure for the blues and only remedy for the heart. Rod La Rocque with beautiful Jeanette Loff, Tom Kennedy and May Kay is starring in "Love Over Night." Not only that, but there is a comedy, "The Desert Bride" and the very latest Seven Seas show.

AT THE CAPITOL
Today presents the last opportunity for Edmonton photographers fans to see "Outcast" in which Corinne Griffith is making one of the most powerful roles as the Captain. In addition to the screen feature, which is attracting enormous throngs from those who have seen it, the stage attractions are being commiserated highly. Corinne Griffith and her band are enjoying a great success, while Billie A. Dwyer has two of the most powerful characters of the South ever based on an Edmonton stage.

AT THE REALTY
Showing for the last time today at the Realty Theatre is a double feature bill, "The Desert Bride" and "The Great."

"The Desert Bride" with Betty Compton in the leading role is a dramatic drama, which will cause the house to surge through your eyes, the hair to stand on end and the breath come back as you pause in suspense while the picture unfolds upon the screen.

AT THE MONARCH
Another Zane Grey story featuring Jack Holt and the beautiful actress, the Monarch theatre, "Avalanche," a story of the early days of the West, packed the house and looked a large audience.

AT THE DREAMLAND
During the closing of the season, the new picture for the week, "The Wright Idea," showing at the Dreamland Theatre, is a comedy, which will cause the house to surge through your eyes, the hair to stand on end and the breath come
